

Making CAMP

■ Woodlake children get first taste of camping at Police Chief John Zapalac's Camp Zap on his ranch nestled in the foothills of Lemon Cove

Photos by Robert Robinson/Sun-Gazette

Clockwise from bottom left: Woodlake Police Explorers and camp counselors Mirella Reyes, Berenice Frauto, Juan Ramos and Jouire Correia take a break in front of the police department's bus. Eric Ramirez, 10, and Cordelle and Jeremy Walton, both 8, pet and play with Porky the pot belly pig at Camp Zap. Kylie Hubbard, 10, of Exeter pets one of the horses at John Zapalac's ranch. Zapalac and Bobby Foster tend to the barbecue before feeding about 30 campers who attended Camp Zap last weekend.